Global Web Privacy Statement

All Curtis websites worldwide shall, at all times, maintain the privacy of: visitors to the websites.

- As a business-to-business technical company, Curtis does not market or sell consumer products to the general public.
- Curtis web readers are high specialized technical personnel, usually in other businesses, who have a distinct interest in the technical and product information shared on our website.
- We do not conduct e-commerce.
- Curtis websites are designed to provide information to our partners and prospective partners who request information or services from us.
- This information is voluntarily accessed when visiting and viewing the Curtis websites containing this information.
- No personally identifiable information is collected on any Curtis website that can be directly associated with a specific person or entity, such as name, telephone number, company, physical address, or email address, unless the client voluntarily fill out a Request for Information form and voluntarily chooses to send this to Curtis.
- Curtis keeps all information private and confidential and does not sell, share or disseminate this information to any third parties.
- Curtis may gather any non-personal information regarding how many people visit this website, the pages they visit, their IP address, and the type of browser they used while visiting through Google Analytics in order to measure web traffic.
- We use session ID cookies on Curtis websites to make the user experience easier. A cookie is a small text file that is stored on a user's computer for record-keeping purposes, but we do not link the information we store in cookies to any personally identifiable information you submit while on our site.
- Customers and prospects are able to set their own user-controllable cookie preferences on their own web browser, including the option not to receive cookies. Opting out of cookies will not adversely affect anyone's ability to view Curtis websites.
- If customers or prospects voluntarily choose to provide their email address or other personally identifiable information to us, we will only use that information to respond to that specific question or request. We will not give that information to a third party to promote their products or services directly to our customers or web users.
- Curtis websites shall limit external links to other sites. In the rare cases that we link to websites owned by other companies, we do not endorse or otherwise accept responsibility for the content or privacy policies of those websites.
